Re: Application of Bullseye Telecom, Inc. for Authority to Provide Facilities-Based Local Exchange Telecommunications Services, TPUC Docket No. 03-00126, Request to Cancel Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity ("CCN")

Dear Mr. Rosel:

Commission Staff reviewed the request of Bullseye Telecom, Inc. ("Bullseye") to cancel its CCN that was filed on September 7, 2023, following the reorganization of the Company and transfer of Bullseye's complete customer base to Lingo Telecom, LLC ("Lingo"). During its review, Commission Staff requested information from AT&T concerning whether Bullseye was still receiving resale and/or wholesale services from AT&T. Communications between Commission Staff and AT&T have been filed in the docket. The last information the Commission received from AT&T concerning this cancellation request is that AT&T is awaiting the execution of a Transfer Agreement and Assignment amendment.¹ The Commission has not received any updated information from AT&T concerning Bullseye's status.

In order to proceed with the cancellation of Bullseye's CCN, the Commission requires information that Bullseye and Lingo have resolved the service issues with AT&T completing the transfer of services from Bullseye to Lingo. Please file proof of completion and filing of the Transfer Agreement and Assignment amendment AT&T indicated was required from processing and of the cessation of resale and/or wholesale services to Bullseye by AT&T on or before September 24, 2025. Failure to file the information requested on or before said date may result in the denial of the request without prejudice. Please feel free to contact me should you have any questions.

Sincerely,
