AGREED MOTION TO STAY THE PROCEDURAL SCHEDULE

---

The Consumer Advocate and Lynwood Utility Corporation (“Company”) jointly request that the procedural schedule in this matter be stayed. The parties have been working together to resolve certain discovery issues. These discussions have been productive. However, due to limited resources, the Company requires additional time to produce the information requested by the Consumer Advocate. The Consumer Advocate cannot file Direct Testimony without first examining the supplemental discovery material the Company will be providing. The parties would urge that a new procedural schedule be considered at the status conference on April 26 that was previously scheduled by the hearing officer.

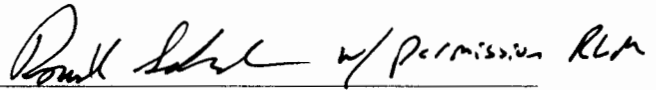

Respectfully Submitted,
