CONSUMER ADVOCATE'S NOTICE OF INTENT NOT TO SUPPLMENT

Robert E. Cooper, Jr., Attorney General and Reporter for the State of Tennessee, through the Consumer Advocate and Protection Division (hereinafter "Consumer Advocate"), respectfully provides this Notice of Intent Not to Supplement its prior Request for Interlocutory Review, filed with the Tennessee Regulatory Authority (hereinafter "TRA") on May 19, 2009. While the Consumer Advocate appreciates the opportunity to provide a supplement granted by Hearing Officer Cashman-Grams in her Order on Third Round Discovery Disputes, it contends that the previously filed Request for Interlocutory Review accurately and fairly presents its position in these matters and leaves the analysis of these issues to the Chairman and Directors of the TRA. The Consumer Advocate therefore files this Notice of Intent to notify the TRA and Chattanooga Gas Company of its intent not to file a supplement to the previously filed Request for Interlocutory Review. However, the Consumer Advocate reserves the right to respond to any arguments raised by Chattanooga Gas.

Respectfully submitted,

T. Jay Warner, BPR No. 26649
