Mr. Roberson,

Please have Piedmont Natural Gas fully explain how charging customers who conserve natural gas higher rates, so that they can teach us all to conserve gas will work. Isn't this an oxymoron? How does this work? Doesn't this mean if we all then use less natural gas because of their efforts to teach us to conserve mean the rates will go up again? Then they'll teach us to conserve more, and then rates go up again. Ad infinitum!?!?!?

If this is allowed to pass without an understandable explanation of how this will work, then why is the TRA there?

Respectfully,

Gary O'Berto
Donelson, TN

It may make you mad. It did me. Assuming you work for the people of the State of Tennessee .. I'm sure you do.

But for now, I want to voice my opposition to de-coupling at Piedmont. These people can't be trusted. They act "dumb", but they are dumb like a fox .. careful they don't eat you!
