OnWav, a Tennessee corporation, is a competitive local exchange company, providing exchange, exchange access and interexchange services primarily in and around Cookeville, Tennessee. OnWav serves approximately 20 access lines (as a reseller of Frontier Communications of Tennessee and AT&T Tennessee) with traditional exchange and interexchange services, as well as voice and data services through a combination of Internet protocol technology and more traditional network platforms. OnWav serves approximately 65 customers through Internet protocol technology in Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, the District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Maryland, Montana, North Dakota, New Jersey, Nevada, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and Washington.²

Twin Lakes is a Tennessee cooperative telephone company, providing broadband services, local exchange and exchange access to approximately 32,300 access lines in exchanges in Celina, Moss, Gainesboro, Livingston, Cookeville South, Crawford, Rickman, North Springs, Granville, Highland, Jamestown, Baxter, Clarkrange, Byrdstown and Chestnut in Fentress, Overton, Pickett, Clay and Jackson Counties, Tennessee. ¹ 47 C.F.R. § 63.03; see 47 U.S.C. § 214. Applicants are also filing applications for transfer of control associated with authorization for international services. On August 16, 2011, the Applicants filed an application for the transfer of control of OnWav's 3.65 GHz radio license WQIH439 (File No. 0004839394). Any action on this domestic section 214 application is without prejudice to Commission action on other related, pending applications.

² OnWav has state-wide certification within Tennessee, but does not provide competitive service in Twin Lakes' ILEC service territory. Applicants state that OnWav and Twin Lakes have entered into an interconnection agreement in anticipation of a future exchange of traffic, but that it is executory in nature, there being no facilities in place, nor OnWav customers in the Twin Lakes ILEC service territory.

subscribers and to subscribers in Putman County, Tennessee, where it also provides competitive local exchange and exchange access services. Applicants state that no individual owns or controls five percent or more of the interests of Twin Lakes.

Under the proposed transaction, Twin Lakes will purchase all of the issued and outstanding stock of OnWav. Applicants assert that after the consummation of the proposed transaction, OnWav will continue to operate in its current service territory under its existing trade name. Applicants state that, post-consummation, OnWav will continue to offer services pursuant to its current rates, terms and conditions.

Applicants assert that the proposed transaction is entitled to presumptive streamlined treatment under section 63.03(b)(2)(ii) of the Commission's rules³ and that a grant of the application will serve the public interest, convenience, and necessity by ensuring no interruption of service, no inconvenience to the affected customers, and no significant diminution in the availability of competitive local services.
