A Billed revenue increased mainly due to increase in PGA.

B Gas purchase cost fluctuates with level of volumes purchased and natural gas market prices.

C Purchased Gas Cost adjustments vary with consumption volumes and recovery rates.

D Gas withdrawn volumes fluctuate with customer needs, primarily weather driven, but also by operational requirements, along with weighted average cost of gas prices.

E Misc. Service Fees in TN were turned back on per our order in June. July 1st was the start date that leads to an increase in Misc. Service revenues.

F Commodity transportation was up in FY23 compared to FY20 & FY22 primarily due to an increase in demand for transportation services. Increase also due to tariff rate increases for reservation charges.

A It is helpful to view all labor in subaccounts 01000 through 01014 in total. Annual merit increases of 3% and changes to headcount will contribute to variances.

B The increase is mainly due to overall increases in material costs and shipping.

C When the vehicle lease expense is netted with capitalized transportation costs the net variance is under threshold.

D The increase is primarily associated with a return of Atmos employees back to their day-to-day pre Covid business activities.

E The increase is primarily due to the decision to advertise via billboards in our Middle & East TN growth markets.

F The increase is primarily driven by auction sales proceeds in prior years vs FY23.

G The increase is primarily driven by an increase in the upkeep of our buildings.

H The increase is primarily driven by an increase in utility rates.

I Primary driver is contract labor associated with line locating, atmospheric corrosion survey, and leak survey expenses from Heath Consultants Inc vs. what was experienced in FY20 & FY22.

J The variance is primarily driven by an increase in monthly average bill print fees in FY23 vs FY20 and FY22.

K When the Uniforms expense is netted with capitalized uniforms costs the net variance is under threshold.

L The increase is due to higher bad debt expense experienced during FY23.

A It is helpful to view all labor in subaccounts 01000 through 01014 in total. Annual merit increases of 3% and changes to headcount will contribute to variances.

B The increase is primarily due to shared services expense for ALMS management for wireless meters and endpoints.

C The increase is primarily associated with a return of Atmos employees back to their day-to-day pre-Covid business activities.

D Increase due to concentrated effort on updating records in our GIS/Mapping systems.

E The increase is due to an increase in customers using credit cards.

F Costs in this subaccount are removed from the revenue requirement as a Disallowed Item.

G These subaccounts are used to allocate Shared Services (Div 002 and Div 012) amounts to the Div 091 KY/Mid-States division office. Please see the Div 002 and Div 012 O&M by subaccount tabs for Shared Services O&M by subaccount allocated to Tennessee.

A Primary driver is increase in Software maintenance and Contract labor, plus return of Atmos employees back to their day-to-day pre Covid business activities which increased building maintenance & travel expenses in FY23 vs FY20 and FY22.

B The 922 account is used to transfer expense from the general offices to the business units. The amounts shown in this Div 002 tab are the Div 002 expenses that were allocated to Tennessee, excluding cost center 1903 which does not allocate to the business units.

C Primary driver is increase in Cpntract labor and Software maintenance in FY23 vs FY20 and FY22.

D The primary driver is the increase in Public Liability Insurance in FY23 vs FY20 & FY22.

E The total Shared Services FY22 account 926 amount is lower because an OPEB correction was booked at September 2021 at the consolidated level that was not pushed down to the business units, and reversed out of Shared Services, until November 2021 (FY22).
