| Comment/Message: | An increase of as much as 300+% is unconscionable. I can appreciate that Limestone Water may have invested substantial funds into upgrading and replacing aging equipment, which I might add they should have known about when the assumed control of the systems in question. However, the costs of upgrades and | improvements should be spread over a reasonable lifetime estimate of the improvements which have been made, rather than attempting to pay for the work in an unreasonable timeframe as it appears.
