Comment/Message:

Tellico Village has existed many years, at least 10, before the TPUC came into existence. Our POA has operated successfully for over 30 years. If it was ever the intent for the TPUC to provide oversight for private planned unit developments then the TPUC should have investigated doing that on their own. I consider this nothing but overreach by a government entity.

Our private development has costs and requirements that must be paid by money generated solely by this development. Thx for review.
